

Hugh and Cheryl Halter live in the St. Louis, MO area and are planting their third church.

Hugh has been a leading voice within the missional church movement and has authored eight books all reflecting his heart for the church, evangelism and making the kingdom tangible.

He speaks extensively around the world in hopes of igniting laity and leaders back into missionary engagement. Some are with church planters, but most are with existing congregations with huge hearts for the lost but who still live according to the rhythms of abstract holiness.

He is the founder of Missio & US director of Forge America. He and Cheryl have three grown children. To browse Hugh's writings, go to hughhalter.com
